DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1,7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Peterson '087.

Petersen discloses the claimed invention, including an inner inflatable PVC bladder retained within a nylon fabric sleeve. An opening 26 in the stern is provided.

3. Claims 1,5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Peterson '360.

Peterson discloses the claimed invention, including an inflatable bladder retained within an outer sleeve. Ribs 48 are provided to provide planar surfaces.

4. Claims 1,2 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Boucher.

Boucher discloses the claimed invention, including an inflatable PVC bladder retained within a nylon sheath. A neoprene upper surface is provided for user comfort, as well as nylon covered foam handles.

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3617

6. Claims 3,4 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Peterson '087.

The denier of the fabric, as well as the gauge of the PVC are considered to have been obvious design considerations, well within the level of skill of the ordinary routineer working in the art at the time of the invention, providing no unexpected results.
